

iAM
SIST
ERH
OOD

20
10
COLOUR CONFERENCE
A gathering of the Sisterhood sydney . london . kiev

Travel & Accommodation

The Royal Albert Hall is accessible from any of London's five main airports – London Heathrow, Gatwick, Stansted, London City and Luton. Within London, you can travel via underground (Tube) and mainline rail services and the closest tube stations are South Kensington, Gloucester Rd and High St Kensington. For hotels in the vicinity of the O2, we have partnered with Flight Centre to get the best deals possible and recommend the following:

Within Walking distance

From £90: Brompton Hotel
From £119: Park International Hotel
From £128: 54 Boutique
From £134: Crown Plaza London Kensington
From £136: Millennium Baileys Hotel Kensington
From £137: Holiday Inn London Kensington Forum
From £138: Rydges Kensington Plaza
From £150: Gainsborough Hotel
From £175: Thistle Kensington Gardens
From £179: Radisson Edwardian Vanderbilt Hotel
From £221: The Kensington London
From £245: Royal Garden Hotel – A Summit Hotel
From £279: Bentley London

Within 2-3 Tube stops

From £73: Mowbray Court
From £74: Hilton London Olympia
From £82: London Town
From £85: Kensington West
From £105: Express By holiday Inn Earls Court
From £125: Derby Hotel Kensington
From £125: Quality Crown Hotel Kensington
From £125: K West London
From £315: Blakes London

Special Travel Rates with Flight Centre

To make travelling to Colour Conference as cost effective and convenient as possible, we've partnered with Flight Centre to help you make the best arrangements for your needs. Flight Centre, with their low price promise and worldwide network, have a range of hotels available at all price levels and can also book your flights with all major airlines. You can call them on +44 (0) 207 841 1573 and speak to our dedicated Colour Conference Travel Advisor. You can also email lisa.clark@flightcentre.co.uk.